

Dear Friend,

January 18, 2015

We will show you how to put high quality food on your table and care for yourselves and your family. Our methods will heal your land and make it healthier year after year. We use natural techniques and materials that are healthy for people and animals.

Replace toxic food with your own home grown food and be healthy.

Our systems generate surplus and abundance which can be continuously reinvested, so you can always provide top quality food to your family and community, and continuously improve the natural systems around you. This leads to better lives which you can see in a season or two.

Sincerely,

Tony Teolis
